Overview

Prodigy is a premier online, curriculum aligned, educational math program and game for students aged 5 to 13, offering a free, educational resource to school, teachers and parents. Math educators can engage students in their math curriculum in a manner that creates a love of learning for math. Participating teachers have the opportunity to receive comprehensive reporting, versatile content delivery options and engaging, differentiated learning experiences for students. Parents can engage in their children's math education by following their children's progress in the game and supporting their children's learning. Parents can be notified of the math activity that their children are undertaking and have the option to enhance their children's math experience by purchasing a membership which offers enhanced features and math engagement opportunities.
