Overview

Evo Business Environments specializes in commercial interior design, furniture sales, and interior construction. Evo is the regional dealer for Herman Miller (now MillerKnoll), DIRT glass and solid modular wall systems, and Tate access floors, as well as many other furniture, fixture, and interior office product manufacturers. Evo has an in-house design team, as well as an installation team to oversee projects from start to finish and offers everything from a single office chair, to furnishing full remodels, reconfigures, and new construction. Evo specializes in creating beautiful work spaces and built environments that utilize the space to promote functionality and productivity for employees and employers alike. We work alongside other professionals – engineers, architects, and general contractors, to craft these environments for clients in many sectors including healthcare, education, government, technology, and business.
