Overview

Teq is innovating the entire learning experience by bringing all of the dynamic moving parts of education together into a complete thought! Unique blend innovative products, experienced service and supportive professional development. Dedicated to championing the evolution of the modern classroom, Teq has provided solutions to improve student learning since 1972. We offer a wide-ranging assortment of the latest K-12 educational technology products, including SMART Interactive Displays and STEM products such as robotics, 3D printers and AR/VR. We also provide our own in-house professional development and consulting services. With a focus on the fusion of technology and learning, our goal is to empower educators, improve technology integration, and increase student achievement in today's schools.
