Overview

Deledao Education is a digital wellness company that advocates for digital mindfulness in a tech-filled world. We want to help people make thoughtful choices online by demystifying how to protect their internet privacy and providing the tools to make the internet a positive experience. Because children are the most vulnerable, the Deledao team developed an innovative web protection solution for K-12 schools. We believe that by giving our children a positive online community, they can grow up to change the world for the better. From where we stand, their futures look bright.
