Overview

INVZBL is a protection technology company with headquarters in Austin, Texas. We offer accidental damage protection plans for school devices through INVZBL Protect Express Powered by FedEx, a program purpose-built for education. In addition, we specialize in UV-C disinfection innovation and Indoor Air Quality (IAQ) solutions and services. As an added layer of protection, all Protect Express repaired devices undergo UV-C treatment prior to being shipped back for reassignment.

Our comprehensive IAQ offering encompasses monitoring and advanced surface & air purification systems with active UV-C technology and multi-stage filtration. Our N-AIR and Air Base One air purifiers are third-party tested and validated for their effectiveness at eliminating airborne pathogens, viruses, bacteria, odors, and other volatile organic compounds in a live classroom environment.
