Overview

Clear Energy is an energy services company providing a full range of efficiency retrofit services, solar projects, and energy performance contracting. Company principals have decades of experience in the energy field with world class organizations. We are technology and brand neutral. Our loyalty is to our customers. We present multiple solutions for each opportunity without regard to the manufacturer or supplier of a product. We take the long view, stressing total operating cost of installed equipment over its life, not just initial capital cost. Our services are turnkey from idea conception through detail design of energy conservation measures to implementation to construction and commissioning.
