Overview

Citiri provides the CitiriOS operations enablement platform and supporting services. The CitiriOS platform is uniquely built for infrastructure operators. It helps airports and transit agencies undertaking major projects, make big things happen. We offer operations enablement solutions that help our customers minimize construction-related disruption and reliably deliver ready-to-operate projects that achieve the business goals and objectives they were intended to produce. We accomplish this through AI-powered operational workflows, predictive analytics, and stakeholder engagement portals. ORAT, operational readiness, activation, and transition teams can ditch their spreadsheets and manage all their work in a single, easy to use system.

Citiri has helped airports and transit agencies execute ORAT and operationalize more than $60 billion in projects ranging from small projects like security checkpoint relocations to mega projects like 1+ million square foot terminal buildings and train stations. Collectively, our team has been involved in familiarization and training for over 25,000 participants, over 75 operational transitions, more than 1,300 operational trials, and facilitated engagement with over 250,000 internal and external stakeholders.

Our customers range from the busiest airports and transit systems in the world to small and medium sized operators. Representative customers include Hartsfield-Jackson International Airport, Los Angeles World Airports, Seattle-Tacoma International Airport, San Francisco International Airport, Port Authority of New York and New Jersey, Greater Orlando Aviation Authority, Allegheny County Airport Authority, MARTA, and Sound Transit among others.
