Overview

InkJet, Inc. was founded with a Maverick Spirit and a radical idea: to offer world class solutions at a revolutionary price, driven to deliver a pain-free business experience. Founder Thomas Quinlan realized that customers did not have an option for their consumables other than the OEM and he created a new market to give customers what they wanted. After our humble beginning in 1989, InkJet earned a global reputation among competitors, OEMs and distributors for maintaining our status as the best manufacturer in this niche. In 2020, we turned in a new direction to utilize our experience with clean production to start offering hand sanitizers and wipes. Out of this new direction, Community Chemical was born.
