Overview

Critical Response Group Inc. is the nation's leader in emergency response mapping data for schools. Our school mapping solutions are born from lessons learned by US Special Operation Forces on the battlefield and transitioned for use by school security teams and first responders. Our leadership team is composed of decorated US Military Special Operations officers and public safety executives who specialize in improving the usability and accessibility of emergency response mapping data for schools and public safety during an emergency. Our signature mapping product, Collaborative Response Graphics (CRGs), enhance response time and improve command and control during a school safety event. CRGs combine accurate floor plans, high resolution imagery, emergency response pre-planning, and gridded-overlay into one map. Critical Response Group builds CRGs, distributes them to local, county, state, and federal public safety agencies through a variety of software applications, and provides the necessary training to ensure full implementation. CRGs are the only school mapping solution endorsed by the Texas Association of Police Chiefs and were used effectively to communicate during multiple critical incidents in Texas, including the October 5, 2021 incident at Timberview High School in Mansfield ISD and the Colleyville synagogue standoff in January 2022.
