Overview

Aquila Environmental ("Aquila") is a values-based and purpose-driven business that strives to help large institutions steward the environments in which they occupy. To that end, Aquila currently offers building solutions for energy conservation and pathogen containment, primarily tailored toward the K-12, Higher Education, and large institutional market in Texas and the Southwest. We believe we are amidst a long-term shift, whereas stewarding the environments in which we occupy is no longer a 'feel good thing' of the past but a present obligation. Ultimately, we come to work every day because what we are doing, helps people.
