Overview

GHG Corporation created Clockwise Time and Attendance to use on our own government engineering services contracts. We soon saw its value as an offering to help other organizations account for their time, especially when flexible, automated compliance is critical. We have been providing this easily customizable automated time and attendance system for 15 years to a variety of industry types including counties, cities, towns, school districts, and commercial businesses. Clockwise now supports nearly 800 government, non-profit, and commercial customers with over 600,000 users in over 20 countries worldwide.
