Overview

Smart Rain technology saves water and money on commercial and municipal landscapes. Giving users the simplest water management solution on the market. Whether you step a foot on the property or not, you'll know exactly what is happening. All from your mobile device or computer. Resulting in a third saving factor-time.

We live in a day and age where technology is at our fingertips. Why not use it to our advantage? It's easy to conserve water and cut water bills in half with Smart Rain products. Our EPA certified, LEED qualifying, SmartController™ is the loyal minion. Pushing data points of weather, schedules and more from SmartApp™ to sprinkler heads. All, while giving real-time reports of actions and savings. While you are working hard at the office or on-site. Or even while you're hardly working from the beach in Cabo. You can have peace-of-mind that the landscape is healthy, and watering is effective. You know what else gives you peace-of-mind? You're remote water management team. You didn't even know you had one, uh?

Smart Rain's Customer Success team ensures you see savings. When you are a Smart Rain customer, you get a dedicated account manager that is available 24/7. This proactive manager monitors your sites for efficiency. Also bringing in other experts from the team as needed. Allowing you to focus more of your time on what you do best.

Time can be as precious as water. One of the many award-winning features is our interactive SmartMapping™. Allowing a user to identify watering zones and other equipment on an interactive map. By clicking a zone on the map, one can manage water schedules and more. No need to drill down to that zone on another screen. Stay on the map view, locate the zone. Click. Manage. Save. Now, that is easy.

summer. Yet, during the hottest month of the year, August, they only needed to water two times! The Smart Rain system responded with perfection, using the hyper-local SmartWeather™ data. And utilizing the most accurate weather reports within one square mile. Now that is weather-based watering technology at its finest.

"I love the simplicity of Smart Rain. Being short staffed, the automated smart features save me a lot of time." -- Benson Josue, Parks Superintendent

Using over 3 million weather data points, it becomes a worry-free smart water system. And at no extra cost, we provide lifetime support and lifetime training. As well as a lifetime warranty. We are here to make your job easier. So, when we have a software update, you get it immediately. When a SmartController™ is out of date, we send you a new one.

Smart Rain saves water, money and time.
